To Whom it May Concern:

I feel the Proposed Final Judgment in the United States v. Microsoft case is fundamentally flawed and does little to "unfetter [the] market from anticompetitive conduct", fails to terminate Microsoft's illegal monopoly, and preserves intact countless practices which will maintain and extend the Microsoft monopoly in the future. I would also like to add my voice to sentiments expressed by Dan Kegel at <http://www.kegel.com/remedy/letter.html> . I strongly support the views Mr. Kegel expresses on the proposed settlement.

This proposed judgment is definitely not in the public interest.

Sincerely,

Brett Miller
